But I don't want to remove the records containing spammer IP addresses from the log file. I just want to be sure that I can identify some other records in the log file that belong to that spammer IP address. For example, IP | SEEN | 111.111.111 | 12345 192.198.988 | 112233 There are still other records for that IP address (seen 12345 in the example). IP | SEEN | 111.111.111 | 12345 111.111.111 | 12346 Here, I want to get these records from the log file so that they are excluded from the result. I don't want to get records like this (from the example): 192.198.988 | 112233 Please help on this. A: I would recommend Grep, the basic command is to grep the lines like this: grep 192.198.988 log.file This will search the file for the line: 192.198.988 112233 If you wish to exclude some lines from the output you can add these lines to the beginning of the pattern 192.198.988 112233|1234 Note that this excludes only lines which contain that text. Depending on your use case, you can add a shell script to search for the number of lines you want to add and then pipe the output of that script to grep #!/bin/bash # number of lines numlines=$1 # log file log=$2 # grep to print the lines grep "$numlines" "$log" | grep 192.198.988 EDIT: I have noticed that you might have more than one line that matches which you don't want. In this case you can use the -n option 1cdb36666d

A: The official release of RefX Nexus is 1.6.1 The update was released 5 days ago. Also, check the timestamps here The developer is in touch with the support and it will be fixed. Q: Restrict content of a post and not the entire post/page on WordPress I am trying to 'protect' my posts, I mean they should be accessible only to registered users. I do not want to block my site but only display posts to users that are registered in the site. I don't want to create separate user and group and what not. I mean, is there something similar to this plugin where I can create posts with a restriction page that will be a form and once the form is filled, the post/page will be visible to the registered users. This should work on the front-end only. A: I've been looking for this too, I finally managed to achieve this: The solution is to use a checkbox and an ACF field. The checkbox: The field: acf:field_date_post_restricted: And you just need to associate the checkbox with the field. In this way you can display only the restricted content to specific user groups, with a specific format or any other feature: If someone uses this code they will be able to see only the 'restricted content'. No registration is necessary ID, "restricted", true); if(empty($restricted_content)) $restricted_content = "no"; echo ".$restricted_content."; ?> If someone uses this code they will be able

Support for Audio/Video formats. A new scaffold for the treatment of complex central nervous system disorders. Fibrin scaffolds are widely used to reduce damage and improve the function of nerve tissue, and in the current study we have used autologous whole blood and fibrin glue to create a scaffold that would permit in vivo gene transfer into neurons. This fibrin scaffold was transplanted into the brain of rats and was shown to be biocompatible. We developed a central nervous system (CNS) disease model by implanting poly-L-lysine-coated latex microspheres into the right caudate nucleus of rats, which leads to a right circling behavior. Using the fibrin scaffold we could successfully transplant into the right caudate nucleus of the rats and produce a significant reduction of the circling behavior. The fibrin scaffold permitted in vivo gene transfer. We demonstrated that in vivo gene transfer of a growth factor could alter neurobehavioral function in a CNS disease model. We propose that such a fibrin scaffold,
